

Lending to Family & Friends

We've all lent money to family and friends at some point in our lives however it can be an uncomfortable situation when the money takes longer than expected to be paid back.

You're not a bank and certainly not a charity so how can you help your family or friends financially without having to setup complex contracts or agreements ?

An Easy way to lend money or borrow money from friends is to head on over to a Peer to Peer Lending network where all the administration is handled for you.

This is perfect for:
